

AFLEX News Flash

Aflex Ships Equipment Quarterly Enewsletter - - - Oct 2011, Volume 2

Aflex has a new milestone!

We are pleased to announce that Aflex has successfully attained the ISO 9001:2008 certification in June 2011 for the supply, assembly, testing and after-sales services of marine equipment and spares. This is an important milestone for Aflex's quality management system.

Aflex recognizes the importance of providing high quality products and service. This internationally recognized certification will help us assure our customers that we view customer satisfaction as an ongoing priority.

We will continuously make improvement to our organisation to provide quality products and service that fully meets the needs and expectations of our customers.

We hope the ISO 9001:2008 certification will give both our potential and existing customers additional confidence in our organization.

Our China branch has expanded!

Aflex sees great potential in the future development of China maritime industry, and thus we believe that establishing a presence in China is an important step for Aflex's business development.

Since 2009, Aflex's business in China has been growing. We are gradually expanding our office in Shanghai and welcoming new team mates on board.

New Product Offering: Marine Air Compressors

Do you require air compressors for your project or vessel? Aflex has expanded its product offering and we now are able to supply reliable air compressors from Korea. Email us at sales@aflex.com.sg now to find out more.

Thank you for your continued interested in Aflex Ships Equipment. If you wish to unsubscribe to our News Flash, please email to marketing@aflex.com.sg and state "Remove me from e-newsletter" in the email subject line.